

Bradley Gets Top U. S. Military Post

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
Washington, Aug. 12 (P)—Omar Nelson Bradley, the "G. I.'s general", has been selected for the nation's highest military post—permanent chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Selection of the army chief of staff to fill this newly created position was announced yesterday by President Truman.

It had been widely anticipated and came only one day after the president signed new military unification legislation which created the post.

In his new job, Bradley will not have any command authority, or even a vote with the joint chiefs—operating heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force—but he will have vast prestige.

During his 34 years of military service he has served in two world wars, commanded the largest body of troops ever to serve under an American field commander and spent three years as head of the veterans administration. He became the army's chief of staff last year.

Selection of his successor in that office had been expected yesterday but President Truman said he was not ready to make that announcement. Military men generally believed General J. Lawton Collins, vice chief of staff would get the job.

President Truman did announce that he is nominating Admiral Louis Denfeld for an additional two-year term as naval chief. Bradley, Denfeld and General Hoyt Vandenberg of the air force now make up the joint chiefs of staff.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower has been serving as temporary chairman pending enactment of the new law. Mr. Truman made public a letter thanking Eisenhower for his services, and saying he would rely upon him as a consultant in the future.

Bradley, 56, was born in Clark, Mo. He was graduated from West Point in 1915 and was the first in his class to rise to brigadier general.

In World War I he rose to the temporary rank of major in the 14th infantry regiment. Between wars he served as assistant secretary of the general staff and later as head of the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga.

Two months after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor he was given command of the 82nd Infantry division.

During World War II he was a corps commander in North Africa and Tunisia, led the First Army in its D-Day landing on the Normandy coast, and ended the war in command of the 12th U. S. army group, which included more than 1,900,000 combat soldiers. He was widely known for the care and consideration he showed his troops.

Three months later President Truman called upon him to head the veterans administration during its critical post war demobilization period.

Sixty days ago next Sunday, Lewis gave notice of contract termination to the northern and western operators. The Tail-Hartley act requires a 60-day notice of contract termination.

Some operators, the report had it, consider that they will have no obligation after Sunday to make welfare fund payments.

All formal soft coal contracts expired June 30. The UMW has held that pacts in which the termination date is specified do not come under the 60-day "cooling off" requirement of the labor act.

There has been no confirmation of other reports that the miners would go on strike Monday or that the present three-day work week in mines east of the Mississippi would be lengthened to four or five days.

Korean Communists Swipe Cabin Boat From U. S. General

Seoul, Aug. 12 (P)—Brig. Gen. William L. Roberts, commander of the U. S. military advisory mission to Korea, mislaid his 35-foot cabin boat.

Ha, ha, we swiped it, the Communists radio in northern Korea chortled today. That is, the boat went over to the Communists. And who are Communists to look a gift horse, or boat, in the mouth?

Roberts left the boat in charge of a Korean crew of three at nearby Incheon Sunday. The Reds say the boat sailed in Monday and surrendered at Monggongpuri, a port 10 miles inside Red territory.

The general was with U. S. Ambassador John J. Muccio when he learned about the Communist broadcast.

"That boat is American property," Roberts exclaimed. "It carries my flag. Can't we get it back?"

Well, the ambassador said, representations can be made through Moscow.

But don't hold your breath until Moscow makes the Korean comrades disgorge it, general.

Foreign Arms Aid Bill Hits New Obstacles

Hard Fight Foreseen On House Floor

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Aug. 12 (P)—Saved by the slimmest of margins from being cut almost in half, the administration's Foreign Arms Aid bill faced new obstacles today in the House Foreign Affairs committee.

Its supporters still predicted, on the basis of yesterday's committee action, that the bill would emerge early next week with no major changes. They conceded that it is in for a tough fight on the House floor.

By a tie vote reported as eight to eight with nine absentees, the committee rejected yesterday an amendment by Rep. Richards (D-SC.) to cut—from $1,160,990,000 to $580,495,000—the amount of military aid for Atlantic Pact nations. It takes a majority of those voting to approve an amendment.

Backers of the Richards proposal may try again in committee and if they lose they will carry their fight to the House floor.

Several other money amendments were before the committee today.

One by Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) would cut the total authorization bill from the requested $1,450,000,000 to $793,690,000 with the entire program put on a stop gap basis ending next March 31.

Another Vorys amendment would prohibit the construction abroad with United States funds of new arms plants. It would permit only standard U. S. arms to be sent to foreign nations.

Both Vorys and Richards have amendments to charge at actual cost or replacement cost the value of any except surplus arms sent abroad. President Truman has proposed that he be given broad authority to fix a value on such arms.

Another amendment proposed by Rep. Lodge (R-Conn.) would authorize a $200,000,000 arms aid program for non-Communist China.

Gen. MacArthur Won't Testify In Washington

Tokyo, Aug. 12 (P)—General MacArthur today declined a Senate invitation to return to Washington and testify on the foreign arms aid bill.

The occupation commander in a statement gave these two main reasons:

1. He's needed in Tokyo "during this moment of critical events in the Far East."

2. The testimony wanted from him concerns China, "which has never been within the area of my command responsibility."

On top of that, MacArthur said that "my specific views with respect to the strategic potentialities of the area embracing my Far East command are fully on file with the department of the army."

There was quite an upsurge of demand for his return among senators in Washington this week. Ten senators "urgently requested" Secretary of Defense Johnson to get MacArthur home for his views on the arms measure.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) introduced a resolution to the same effect. President Truman said yesterday he would sign an order for MacArthur to return any time the occupation commander wanted to.

Police said the quiet, middle-aged author of the fabulous romance was knocked to the pavement by a drunken taxi-driver and dragged 15 feet.

She was taken to City hospital where physicians and nurses said she was too gravely hurt to be moved even for x-rays.

She was placed under an oxygen tent and was given a blood transfusion early today, after her blood pressure fell. Attendants said she responded satisfactorily.

Hospital attendants made it plain that Miss Mitchell would need a stout heart—as stout as the one she gave Scarlett O'Hara—to pull through.

Miss Mitchell—in private life she's Mrs. John Marsh—received a possible skull fracture, internal injuries and an injury to her right leg. Her face was badly bruised.

She was struck by a car owned and driven by a taxi company employee. The company said the vehicle was not used as a taxicab.

A close family friend said an interne told her blood had run in a thin, weak stream from Miss Mitchell's left ear, normally a sign of a skull fracture. A deep gash was inflicted along the base of her skull.

Lightning Kills Woman At Phone In Three Rivers

Three Rivers, Mich., Aug. 12 (P)—A Three Rivers housewife was killed yesterday by lightning that traveled through telephone wires and struck her as she was calling a neighbor.

The victim, Mrs. Bessie Delano Hibbard, 64, was asking the neighbor, Raymond Bohm, to bring her some evening papers when she collapsed at the phone.

Her husband, Ross Hibbard, said she apparently died immediately. Her left ear, which was pressed against the receiver, was badly burned by the lightning.

Coroner Willard Balch of St. Joseph county pronounced it an accidental death.

Bohm reported that he heard a "click" over the telephone at the instant the line went dead.

BOYS RUN 150 MILES

Detroit, (P)—A legend has it that in pioneer days Chief White Pigeon ran 150 miles from Detroit to White Pigeon, Mich., to warn settlers of an impending Indian attack on the village. Saturday four White Pigeon youths will repeat the run in observance of the founding of White Pigeon. It will be a preliminary to the celebration Aug. 20 and 21.

Rains Cause Damage In Lower State; Basements Flooded In Detroit Area

(By The Associated Press)
Rainstorms hit southern Michigan again today after causing widespread minor damage around the state yesterday.

For the most part, today's storms were confined to the southeastern section of the Lower Peninsula. Detroit, Saginaw, Flint and Lansing reported rainfall, with more expected through the day.

Yesterday sharp thunderstorms struck scattered areas in the Lower Peninsula. In Three Rivers a woman was killed by lightning while talking on the telephone and a police switchboard operator was injured in a similar mishap in Pontiac. The storm also was held directly responsible for the deaths

Capitol Buzzes Over Deep Freezer Gifts To Important People

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, Aug. 12 (P)—A report that Mrs. Harry S. Truman was among notables who received deep freezers from a concern figuring in the Senate's five percent inquiry today brought this reply from President's Secretary Charles G. Ross:

"I have no information whatever about that."

Ross was told a news story named Mrs. Truman, along with Chief Justice Vinson, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, James K. Vardaman, Federal Reserve Board governor, and George E. Allen, former RFC member and presidential intimate.

"I know nothing whatever about that, either," Ross said when the other names were mentioned.

The matter of the deep freeze units entered the hearing yesterday when a Milwaukee businessman testified that he shipped one in 1945 to Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's Army aide.

"Well, I'll be damned," was the first reaction of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), a member of the investigating group.

When today's hearing resumed, McCarthy followed up that comment with a formal demand that Vaughan be called for questioning.

McCarthy based his demand chiefly, however, on Vaughan's reported efforts in connection with a race track construction case rather than the deep freeze matter.

Young Husband Killed Waving To His Wife

Crosswell, Mich., Aug. 12 (P)—William Phillips, 21, of Marine City waved goodbye to his young wife yesterday.

While waving, Phillips climbed out of the fender of a moving car. He slipped and fell to the pavement. Several hours later, he died in Port Huron hospital.

Ivan Booth, 20, of Carsonville, the driver of the car, was to be questioned today by Prosecuting Attorney Charles W. Rigney.

Tito Branded Foe Of Soviets

Kremlin Denounces Yugoslav Regime

London, Aug. 12 (P)—Russia today called Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government an "enemy and foe of the Soviet Union."

It was the first time the Kremlin has hurled the term "enemy" against Tito, although it has bitterly denounced the Yugoslav regime for the last year.

Diplomatic observers were wondering whether the latest outbreak of name calling signaled a sharper Soviet policy against the Tito government. Marshal Tito last week alerted his troops in Yugoslav Macedonia, between Communist Bulgaria and Albania, and said his Soviet-dominated neighbors were spreading rumors of a possible Red army invasion there.

Tito was quoted by his official news agency as dismissing the reports as attempted intimidation but warned he was ready to fight any invader.

The Soviet note accused the Yugoslav government of "merging itself . . . with imperialist circles (the West) against the Soviet Union and entering into blocs with them."

Former Prosecutor At Mt. Clemens Gets State Prison Term

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Aug. 12 (P)—Wilbur F. Held, 41, former Macomb county prosecutor, today was sentenced to 15 months to five years in prison on each of two counts growing out of the grand jury investigation of gambling in Macomb county.

The sentence was passed by Circuit Judge Joseph F. Sanford of Muskegon. Held immediately indicated that he would appeal the sentence to the state supreme court, and was arranging $2,000 bond.

He was convicted after a jury trial ending last Dec. 22. The two sentences are to run concurrently.

Gas Leak Blows Up House At Saginaw; Man Burned On Head

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 12 (P)—Fred W. Schmidt, 58, was hospitalized with head burns today after an explosion, apparently the result of a gas leak, blew out part of the side of his house.

The victim's four-week-old granddaughter, Ellen Kay Richert, slept through the blast that rocked the house last night.

Three others, Schmidt's wife, Hulda, 58, and his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Richert, were in the house at the time of the explosion. Mrs. Schmidt suffered shock, and the others were uninjured.

BEATEN WITH WHIP

Truman Irked By Delay Of Money Bills

Filibuster Charged To Senate GOP

By JACK BELL
Washington, Aug. 12 (P)—President Truman's assertion that Republican filibusters are delaying money bills in the Senate brought GOP counter charges today that the Democrats are stalling Congress' adjournment.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.) told a reporter he thinks there is a Democratic plot to keep Congress in session and thereby keep Republican lawmakers off the stump this fall.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, retorted that this is "only a figment of the senator's imagination."

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, and Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of his party's policy committee, took issue with the President on the money bill question.

Hoover "Sounds Funny"
Wherry called reporters together to tell them his belief that Mr. Truman, in complaining at delays, was actually reflecting on the Democratic leadership.

The President made his filibuster-delay statement at a news conference yesterday.

At the same time he brushed off the statement by former President Hoover that the nation is "on the last mile" toward collectivism because of government spending and taxation.

Asked about this, Mr. Truman replied: "It sounds funny to me. I don't know what that is, but I don't think it is so."

On another point, the President disagreed with a statement by Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel, that presidential creation of a fact-finding board in the steel labor-management dispute means that wages will be fixed by the government and collective bargaining will be ended.

Mr. Truman said such boards have been set up for 15 or 20 years and they will not end bargaining.

Session Behind Schedule
Senator Taft said forcefully that there hasn't been any Republican filibuster.

"There has been no filibuster by Republicans on any bill," Taft declared. "We have consistently fought increases made by the Democratic appropriations committee and there have been so many of these that there have

Clark Approved In Committee For Court Job, 9 To 2

Washington, Aug. 12 (P)—The Senate judiciary committee today recommended confirmation of Attorney General Tom C. Clark to be an associate justice of the supreme court. The vote was 9 to 2.

The committee also recommended—9 to 0—the confirmation of Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R.I.) to be attorney general succeeding Clark.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) at first declined to say who he voted against Clark. Later he told reporters that Senators Donnell (R-Mo.) and Ferguson (R-Mich.) opposed confirmation.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders say the Senate will confirm the tall, smiling Texan—now attorney general of the United States—to succeed the late Frank Murphy on the high court.

Ford River To Reopen School

Township Units Are Ready For Term

The South Ford River school will be reopened this year for the first time since 1944, it was announced today by the Ford River Township board of education, to meet the needs of the steadily growing population of the community.

For the past five years children of the district have been transported by bus to the Ford River Mill school, but with the additional families who have established permanent residences that plan is no longer feasible.

Mrs. Loretta Hale has been engaged as teacher of the school which is located on Highway M-35, about six miles from Ford River Mill.

The school is in good condition. A new oil burning furnace has been installed and also complete plumbing with toilets, lavatories and a drinking fountain. The building has been given two coats of paint. One room in the school is being renovated and redecorated for a kitchen and the South Ford River PTA will have a hot lunch program.

Open September 6
The Kasten and Ford River Mill schools also have been painted outside. They were redecorated last year.

The fall term will open on September 6. Elvira K. Miller of Escanaba will again teach at the Kasten school, at Ford River Switch or Hyde. She was instructor there last year. Angeline Sutter of Gladstone and Ruth Temby of Escanaba will be instructors at the Ford River Mill school. This will be Mrs. Sutter's first year in the school and Mrs. Temby is returning for her fifth year.

EDWARD KING

Funeral services for Edward King, who died at the Marine hospital in Detroit yesterday after a long illness, will be held Tuesday morning with burial in Holy Cross cemetery. Military rites for Mr. King, a veteran of World War I, will be conducted by veterans' organizations. The body is at the Alto funeral home where friends of the family may call beginning Sunday evening.

NELS CARLSON

Final rites for Nels Carlson of Danforth were conducted by Rev. Gustav Lund of Bethany Lutheran church at 2 this afternoon in the chapel of the Alto funeral home. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery.

Miss Ruth Glad sang "I Need Thee Every Hour" and "Rock of Ages," playing her own accompaniment.

Palbearers were Gust Tasquin, James Williams and Alvin, Walter, Joseph and Bud Eagle.

$25,289 Road Tax Received

Delta Commission, Cites Benefit

The Delta county road commission and the cities and villages of Delta county are sharing in a total of $25,289.27 in weight and gas tax revenue returned by the state and disbursed today through the office of the county treasurer.

Weight tax for the second quarter totaled $18,762.21 and the payment of gasoline tax for the second half of the payment period was $6,527.06.

These highway revenues are distributed to the road commission and the cities and villages under separate formulas. The amounts to be received by the various units in Delta county are as follows:

Weight tax—Road commission $13,177.15, village of Garden $127.34, city of Gladstone $1,370.36, city of Escanaba $4,087.36.

Gas tax—Road commission $4,584.11, village of Garden $44.30, city of Gladstone $476.72, city of Escanaba $1,421.93.

In the county the money is used for the maintenance of county roads, and in the cities and villages for the improvements of their streets.

Von Schuschnigg At Bay Resort

Was Imprisoned By Adolf Hitler

Sturgeon Bay.—Kurt von Schuschnigg, former Austrian chancellor who was imprisoned by Hitler for his resistance to the Nazi Anschluss, is spending a vacation with his wife at the Pines resort at Idlewild.

Van Schuschnigg is a professor at St. Louis university. He and his wife arrived at the Pines a week ago and are staying an extended period.

His career as chancellor was stormy, and was climaxed when he tried to rally the Austrian people against the threat of the Nazis.

As Hitler exerted pressure for an overthrow of the Austrian government, Schuschnigg called for an election in an effort to unify the Austrians. Moving quickly to forestall the votes, Hitler marched in to the country on March 12, 1938, and jailed the chancellor.

While in prison Schuschnigg through the intercession of the Catholic church, was permitted to marry by proxy Countess Vera Fugger-Czernin.

Later the Schuschniggs were allowed to reside in a Bavarian village, although still under Nazi custody.

Transferred to a prisoner of war camp in the Italian Alps, the couple was released in May, 1945, by American troops. They moved to the Isle of Capri, and came to the United States in 1947.

Offer Chest X-Rays Free At U. P. Fair

Residents of the Upper Peninsula can get a free chest X-ray when the mobile unit of the Michigan Department of Health visits Escanaba during the U. P. State Fair it was announced today by Dr. W. C. Harrison, health officer of the Delta-Menominee district.

A 100 per cent response of all citizens attending the fair to the X-ray unit is the goal of public health and community agencies sponsoring the unit throughout the country, Dr. Harrison said.

"Clothes remain on for an X-ray; it takes only a few seconds and is perfectly safe," he advised.

"Adults can just step right up before the magic eye of the X-ray machine and make sure their chests are healthy," Dr. Harrison added.

The Michigan Department of Health and Michigan Tuberculosis association point out that X-ray is the quickest and best method to find tuberculosis in early stages.

Turin Resident Dies in Marquette

Mrs. Carl Brunngraber, 65, of Turin, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Franz Menze in Marquette shortly after noon Thursday. She had been in ill health for some time.

She was born in Turin Feb. 28, 1884 and resided there throughout her life.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Russell Wanniger, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Franz Menze, Marquette; three sons, Herman of Turin; Carl, Marquette; and Louis, of Birmingham, Mich.; her mother Mrs. Nettie Magnusson of Turin; two sisters, Miss Ella Magnusson, Turin; and Mrs. Rose Currie, Milwaukee; and two brothers, Charles, Turin, and August, Milwaukee. Ten grandchildren also survive.

The body will be transferred from the Swanson funeral home to the Turin Methodist church at noon Saturday and funeral services will be held at the church Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Rev. Earl McClintock of Gwin will officiate and interment will be made in Turin cemetery.

Representatives of traffic law enforcement agencies in the Upper Peninsula yesterday attended a traffic school in Marquette sponsored by the State Safety Commission. Plans were made for a school child traffic safety campaign to be started Sept. 1 in all parts of Michigan.

Attending the meeting from Delta county were Sheriff William Miron, Escanaba Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer, Sgt. Willard Wixom of the state police detachment, Gladstone; and they were accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Andrew Vescolani of Hermansville.

In the coming state-wide campaign the Safety Commission and the cooperating officers will stress the need for traffic safety during the school year.

Elks Plan Family Picnic Sunday At Wells State Park

The first annual family picnic to be sponsored by the Escanaba Elks Lodge will be held at Wells State Park located just south of Cedar River on M-35 Sunday afternoon, August 14. A complete program for children and adults is being planned with many fine awards to be given the winners of the various events. Coffee will be served on the grounds and Elks and their families are asked to plan on spending the day at the park and bring their basket lunch for noon and evening meals.

Ice cream and refreshments will be served on the grounds beginning at eleven o'clock in the morning.

Contests will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and will be classed as follows: For senior boys, 14-16 yrs. old, 75 yd. dash; blindfold race, running broad jump; senior girls, 14-16 yrs.—50 yd. dash, standing broad jump and baseball throw; Intermediate boys—10-13 yrs. old, 50 yd. dash, three-legged race and baseball throw; Intermediate girls—10-13 yrs. old, sack race, 50 yd. dash and potato race; Junior boys—6-9 yrs. old, 50 yd. dash, backward race, crab race; Junior girls, 6-9 yrs. old, sack race, rope skipping

Ferguson, C. P. Bebeau, Wm. Curtis, Thomas Needham and Francis T. Rooney, chairman.

The committee of Elks sponsoring the picnic include: James Ferguson, T. R. Peterson, Ray Richards, Dr. M. H. Garrard, Francis Lewis, Arthur Kluge, Ed. Barry, Wm. Kline, Gladstone, Emil Larsen, Earl Flagstad, Larry Fleming, Nick Bink, John Boyle, Norm Stephenson, A. J. Benard, Elmer St. Martin, Ed. Hengesh, Fred Breitenbach, Magnusson, Stan Johnson, Farnum

Children 5 yrs. old and under, 25 yd. dash, 15 yds. backward race, boys crab race and girls paper plate throwing contest. For adults, the program includes an egg throwing contest for husbands and wives, thread and needle relay; men only will compete in the standing broad jump, ping pong ball blowing contest at 15 yards. Women will compete in balloon bursting event, rolling pin toss and paper plate toss.

It is planned by the committee to make this first annual event one to be enjoyed by the Elks families, especially for the children. Swimming may be enjoyed along the fine sand beach at the park and a ball game for older boys and men is planned for mid-afternoon. Families will register at the south end of the park upon arriving. Signs will be erected at strategic points along the entrance and highway approaches to the park directing families to the south portion of the park. No cars are allowed in the park.

C&NW To Quit Feeder Train

Stambaugh Officials To Protest Petition

Stambaugh.—Stambaugh city officials, will protest a petition filed recently by the North Western railroad with the Michigan public service commission asking that the passenger train from Iron River to Escanaba, making connections with the "400" at Powers, be discontinued.

First notice that the railroad plans to discontinue this service was a letter read last night at a meeting of the city commission. A hearing on the petition will be held Aug. 30 in the court house at Escanaba.

Support of business men here and in Iron River will be asked in a general protest to be entered at Escanaba. The letter said that the railroad has been operating the two trains between Iron River and Escanaba, connecting with the streamliner at Powers, at a loss.

The commission said that while the operation of the two trains is unprofitable, the railroad realizes much income in transporting ore from the Iron county mines to Escanaba. Although figures are not available on the ore movement, the commission indicated that income more than offsets any loss the railroad might be incurring on the "feeder" train.

Edward Gouin, 4, Falls From Car; Escapes Injury

Isabella, Mich.—Edward Gouin, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gouin sr., of 603 North 23rd street, Escanaba, escaped serious injury Sunday night when he opened the back door of his father's car and fell on the highway, at the Isabella depot crossing.

The Gouins were returning to Escanaba following a visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Nedea. The boy's father saw him open the back door and braked immediately, but he fell out before the car was stopped. Another car was coming close behind, and Gouin hurried to the spot where the boy had fallen.

He sustained scratches on his back and legs, but otherwise was not seriously injured. Gouin was driving about 35 mph when the boy fell out. The impact of the sudden stop dislodged the back seat of the Gouin car. It hit their service in World War II, during which he served in France and Germany. He is married and has one son.

School Lunch Cooks To Attend Training Classes Next Week

Twenty-five school hot lunch cooks will attend a school of instruction to be held next week at J. W. Wells State Park south of Escanaba on the bay shore, sponsored by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Primary purpose of the school is to better inform the hot lunch cooks in methods of utilizing surplus commodities, such as powdered eggs and dried milk.

The school will be conducted by Mrs. Alice Smith and Miss Van Horn, nutritionists for the Michigan Department of Health. Dr. William C. Harrison, Delta-Menominee health district director, and Joseph Ball, district sanitarian at Menominee, will discuss health and sanitation with the cooks. The school will open Monday and close on Friday.

The following week a similar school will be held for school lunch cooks from the western section of the U. P. at Indian lake in Iron county.

Nothing New For Hay Fever

Three Possible Ways For Relief Outlined

Ann Arbor—There's nothing new to tell hay fever sufferers this summer.

On the eve of the annual bout with the ragweed pollen, the doctors in the Allergy Clinic of the University of Michigan Hospital, surveyed the past year's developments and could find no startling new word for the four to five million "sneezers" in the United States.

They outline three possible ways to get relief:

1. The best method, if possible, is to go to some region where the pollen count is low or not present. In Michigan, this would be north of the Bay City-Muskegon line.

2. The newly developed anti-histamine drugs which counteract the chemical reaction causing hay fever provide symptomatic relief for many, but still must be used with care.

3. Injection under the skin of pollen extracts before the hay fever season will bring protection to many.

Ragweed pollen liberates the histamine chemical from body tissues during the allergic reaction, the doctors said. This chemical attacks the cells lining the nasal sinuses and eyes.

This allergic reaction causes violent itching of the nose and ears, irritation of the mouth, watering of the eyes, and sneezing, the doctors explained. The reaction may take place directly on the skin surface if sensitivity to the pollen oil is present, they point out.

With the development of the anti-histamine drugs which inhibit the action of the liberated histamine, it is possible to administer shots in advance of the pollen season which build up the individual's tolerance and desensitize his system to the annoying effects caused by the pollen, according to the University Allergy Clinic staff.

Since the anti-histamine drugs may produce drowsiness, dizziness, and headaches, care must be taken to avoid use of an improper dose. The doctors warn against driving an automobile or piloting an airplane until it is learned that the drugs are tolerated by the individual user.

Wild Driving Is Serious Offense

A youthful motorist raced wildly for an hour through the city streets shortly after midnight Wednesday, awakened many residents in the south side of the city, endangered lives, including his own and the lives of the policeman whose duty it was to overtake him, apparently for no other reason than the thrill of the chase.

Fortunately the wild chase ended without serious consequences. At least, no one was injured. The young motorist was arrested for reckless driving, paid a fine of $25 and costs and lost his driver's license for a period of 30 days.

Since this was the second incident of similar nature that has developed here this summer, it is not surprising that the public has become aroused and not a little indignant at such shenanigans.

It has long been the policy of the Daily Press to publish the names of reckless drivers and drunken drivers in the belief that such publication serves as a deterrent to wild driving that boosts the traffic toll. Further, we believe that publication of the names of violators is a part of the penalty that should be assessed, over and above the penalty meted out by the judge. In some cases publication of violators' names is a more serious penalty than the fine assessed, or even the jail sentence that occasionally is meted out.

We will continue to publish the names of reckless and drunken drivers and otherwise support programs designed to reduce the terrible toll of lives and property taken by traffic accidents.

We Did Very Well, But We Should Do More

THE Michigan Press association has sent a questionnaire to its newspaper members, inquiring what new industries have been established in the community since the end of the war.

In filling out the questionnaire, we were able to present quite an imposing list, which read somewhat like this:

Harnischfeger corporation, two plants engaged in the manufacture of welding equipment, truck cranes and sugar cane loaders.

Venus Garment company, women's undergarments.

Solar Furniture company, now the Jacobson company, tables and other furniture items.

Wells Crate & Lumber company, aspen boxes and crates.

Escanaba Glove company, women's gloves.

Delta Furniture company, tables and cabinets.

Northern Motor Builders, automobile motor overhauling.

Fence Company of America, rustic fences and prefabricated homes and cabins.

Insulation Manufacturers corporation, wood wedges for electric motors.

Establishment of these new industries has created jobs for about five hundred persons. In addition, the old stand-bys, the Escanaba Paper company, Birds - Eye Veneer company and Shepek Lumber & Dimension company, have either expanded or improved their facilities and furnish employment for several hundred more.

The above mentioned list does not represent all the new industries attracted to Escanaba during the postwar industrial promotion boom. Others included the Worth company, Bay Foundry and a few small woodworking concerns, which have since suspended operations. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is now endeavoring to interest other industries to locate in these vacated buildings.

While Escanaba has done an outstanding job in attracting new factories, there is still room for industrial expansion. At the present time more than a thousand persons are unemployed in Delta county.

But it is no simple matter to attract new industries. There are fewer entrepreneurs willing to venture capital into new enterprises. Considerable business uncertainty exists just now.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, however, can be expected to continue its efforts to promote Escanaba on the various fronts—industrial, commercial and agricultural.

Liberalism Changes With The Times

WHAT does it mean to be a liberal? In the 19th century, liberalism meant a high degree of freedom from government restrictions in both the economic and political realms. It set the stage for the commercial and industrial growth that made over much of the world.

In the 20th century, by an odd twist, liberalism seems to symbolize the very opposite tendencies: bigger government, more restrictions, less room for free choice. How can the term "liberalism" have any worth if it can be stretched to cover these extremes?

Let's wade into the confusion surrounding this sadly overworked term and see if we can't determine whether it still has any value.

To have any continuing meaning, liberalism clearly must be defined in a manner that will make it adaptable to changing times and conditions.

To define it thus means to free it from any permanent association with a fixed pattern of ideas, whether social, economic or political. In other words, it can't be identified with a pat political doctrine, for political philosophies become outmoded and die.

Obviously, if liberalism means just the 19th century variety, it is practically dead today. If it means big government, it might whither away in some future time when trends perhaps veer in another direction.

Couldn't it be possible that liberalism is really an attitude, a way of thinking that shifts to meet the varying circumstances of an always changing society? But what sort of an attitude?

The record of history suggests an answer. The men who have earned the liberal label seem to have had in common a bold willingness to experiment, to try the new, to shatter old frameworks in quest of solutions to pressing human problems.

By contrast, conservatives appear most often to search for answers within the existing structure of society. They may be no less concerned with solving human problems; they simply are pre-disposed to solve them without breaking new ground.

If a liberal is properly defined as a ground breaker, then in one era he may favor fewer government restrictions and in another he might seek more. His eye is on the problems facing society. He feels no allegiance to any cause but their solution.

Liberalism thus characterized is not a monopoly of any political party. It may exist side by side with conservatism—and does—in both major U. S. parties. By the same token, any individual may exhibit both liberal and conservative tendencies.

But the liberal attitude must show itself in action if it is to count. It is hardly enough to announce "I am a liberal," in the hope that you thereby establish yourself on a high plane of righteousness. You earn the label solely by seeking liberal solutions to problems.

Furthermore, it is just as honorable and important to be a conservative. Society is not always breaking new ground in all directions; much of the time it is busy nurturing and improving ground already broken.

Liberalism and conservatism represent our most fundamental attitudes toward life. They are natural tendencies that ought to be honestly expressed. Nothing is sillier than to regard liberalism automatically as a cloak of virtue. It is a sound, useful attitude; but it is not the only one a man of good will can have.

SLOT MACHINES ARE GONE (Milwaukee Journal)

There were 15,000 slot machines in Wisconsin in 1942. Now there are practically no machines.

This goes to show what an enforceable law, with an agency to enforce it and governors who insist on strict enforcement, can do to cleanse a state of gambling and its instruments.

What has Wisconsin gained under the Thomson law and its elimination of the slot machines? Think back to conditions in the prewar slot machines heyday.

Thousands and thousands of dollars that could have been better used elsewhere were going into slot machines. Children threw away their spending money, housewives lost cash they should have spent on food and clothing, workmen dropped the hard-earned dollars they should have taken home to their families. Many were the home troubles started by the slot machine.

Wisconsin's beautiful vacation land was littered with the mechanical pickpockets. People who came to Wisconsin to enjoy the lakes and the woods found themselves in a gambling atmosphere. Some were merely disgusted. Others fed their money into the machines and had to go home before their vacation period was up.

Nobody won but the slot machine owners and operators. These machines siphoned a golden flood out of Wisconsin into the underworld of Chicago and New York. The resort owners for a time thought they were winning because the machines created a kind of lively atmosphere. They know now that they were losers, also, even though they did get some returns from this gambling.

Wisconsin owes its emancipation largely to Gov. Goodland and the steps he took to get a law. That law has stuck and the enforcement of it has stuck.

Is Wisconsin a better state with no slot machines? Ask it this way: Isn't this a better state without 15,000 holdup men?

Some locomotives in the south have chime whistles. Ah, those southern belles!

ABOUT ACADEMIC FREEDOM

The recent stand against the employment of Communists in the American educational system, taken by the educational policies commission of the National Education association and the American Association of School Administrators, is a long-needed step in the right direction.

But, unless the stand is backed up by immediate, positive action to purge schools of Communists, fellow travelers, and other assorted subversive crackpots, it will mean little more than the declaration of the country preacher that he is ag'in sin.

Professors and teachers are jealous of their rights to academic freedom, as, indeed, they should be. But there is more than academic freedom at stake in this question. Far more important than academic freedom is the protection of our boys and girls from any teachings that are un-American or which spread communistic doctrine by word, deed, or implication. It is, therefore, the people's business to make sure that this

States Drained By Jobless Aid

BY PETER EDSON

Washington. (NEA)—Exhaustion of unemployment insurance benefits by workers is another recession headache that must soon be faced. Since the laws governing unemployment insurance vary in every state, it is difficult to make a national round-up on this subject that will fit all cases. But the nature of the problem may be stated in general terms.

The weakness of the unemployment insurance system is in combating depressions. The system was designed primarily to give temporarily unemployed workers some income between jobs. If the country is now heading into another period of continued low employment such as it went through in the 1930's, that's where the trouble will come.

The 33,000,000 workers now covered by the various state systems become eligible for unemployment insurance as they build up "wage credits." The more steadily workers are employed in any year, the more unemployment insurance they are entitled to, up to the maximum set by each state. New York now has the most liberal unemployment insurance terms in the nation. Unemployed workers there may draw a maximum of $26 a week for a maximum of 26 weeks in any year.

When a worker exhausts his unemployment insurance benefits in any year, he may not become eligible for more unemployment insurance a new "unemployment year" begins. It is in determining the limits of this employment year that state practices vary widely.

NEW YORK USES QUARTERLY SYSTEM

In New York, the unemployed may become eligible for additional benefits at the beginning of every quarter. The rise in New York's unemployment insurance claims from 331,000 as of June 11 to 425,000 as of July 9 was due in part to the fact that a number of claimants had exhausted their benefits in the second quarter of the year. But they became eligible for new benefits after July 1.

Massachusetts and 15 other states have uniform benefit years, beginning April 1. Maximum benefit in Massachusetts is 23 weeks in any one year. When a Bay State worker has used up all his wage credits and drawn benefit payments for 23 weeks, he cannot again become eligible for benefits until after the next April 1.

In other states, the usual pattern is for each worker's employment year record to begin on the day he files his initial claim for insurance. Then when he has exhausted his benefits, he does not again become eligible for more unemployment insurance until 52 weeks after he filed his first claim.

When a worker is drawing insurance for from 20 to 26 weeks, he is obviously not building up wage credits for the following year. In this ensuing year this worker will therefore be eligible for—roughly—less than half as much insurance as he got in his initial year of unemployment.

MANY BENEFITS ARE EXHAUSTED

National statistics on the existing 48 state unemployment insurance systems, as collected by the Bureau of Employment Security in Washington, reveal that for the first three months of this year, 369,000 of the 2,110,000 workers now drawing unemployment insurance had exhausted their benefits. Figures for the second quarter, now being compiled, will probably show an increase in exhaustions. For the third quarter the situation will really become critical unless there is a pick-up in employment. For when a worker can draw no more benefits, he must go on relief if he has no other source of income.

During the first quarter of 1949, the average unemployed worker exhausted his wage credits and his benefits in about 19 weeks. So any unemployment lasting more than five months can easily swell relief and public welfare rolls.

Of the 10 principal labor market areas reporting more than 12½ per cent of their insured workers drawing unemployment benefits in May, only one situation has been cleared up. That is the San Jose, Calif., area, where seasonal unemployment in food processing areas has been greatly reduced. The Muskegon, Mich., area, with 23 per cent unemployment reported, has shown no improvement. It is expected that some 75,000 workers in Michigan will have exhausted their benefits by September.

Of the 16,000 drawing unemployment insurance in the New Bedford, Mass., area, 4,000 have exhausted their benefits. New England employment officials expect 75,000 workers in that region will have exhausted their benefits by September.

(Please understand that this article is not suggesting that all our schools are harboring Communists and academic pinks. Most of our great institutions of learning are, of course, above suspicion. But some schools do employ Reds, as the Educational Policies commission pointed out.)

The schools should retain their rights of academic freedom, but only if those rights do not infringe on our right to safeguard our children from any evil influence. Now how can we exercise that right? How can we purge our schools of Communists and fellow travelers. The answer is simplicity itself: Since we have the right to choose a school for our children, let us ask that school: "Can you assure me in writing that there are no Communists or communistically inclined teachers on your faculty? That no teaching policy slanted toward communism is permitted in your classrooms?"

If the answer is "yes," well and good. If the answer is "no," or is evasive, or if the questions are ignored. . . Well, you'll know what to do. And if enough of you do it, the schools will have to clean house or else.

In short, as a parent, you have as much right to investigate the teaching policy of a school as you have to investigate its scholastic standing, its physical equipment, and the courses it offers. No school is sacrosanct. No school is privileged to poison the minds of young Americans. If a school has anything un-American up its sleeve, the sooner we know about it the better. Don't you agree?

Another Slum Clearance Problem to Be Solved

Good Evening By Clint Dunathan

VOYAGEURS—The arrival and departure of the four young Frenchmen on their canoe voyage following the water route of Father Marquette to the Mississippi has renewed interest in the history of that famous Jesuit priest.

It is particularly in homage to him that the Marquette team has planned this expedition," according to mimeographed information distributed by the young voyageurs at each of their stops.

Although mentioned, the name of Louis Joliet, another Frenchman on the famous trip of discovery in 1673, is placed second to that of Marquette.

JACQUES MARQUETTE—The World Book encyclopedia describes Marquette as a "French missionary and explorer in America." He was born at Laon, France, in 1637, and died at the age of 38 along the shore of Lake Michigan near Ludington. He had been in North America nine years and seven years in the upper lakes country when death came to him.

Of his trip of exploration to the Mississippi it is reported: "In 1673 he was instructed to give up his mission and accompany Joliet on his exploration of the Mississippi River. By way of Lake Michigan, Green Bay, Fox River and Wisconsin river, they reached the Mississippi, which they descended to the mouth of the Arkansas. Fearing to go further on account of the Spaniards, they returned by way of the Illinois river, having spent four months on the journey."

LOUIS JOLIET—It is to be noted that Marquette was instructed to "accompany Joliet," obviously the leader of the expedition.

Michigan Centennial History, published in 1939, has this to report on the Marquette-Joliet team:

"To obtain a better knowledge of the country and the peoples in the valley of the Mississippi, Talon had designated as leader of the expedition, Louis Joliet, who had the courage to dread nothing where everything is to be feared; while Dablon chose as his (Joliet's) companion and chaplain Father Marquette, at whose mission house at St. Ignace on the Straits of Mackinac the preparations for the journey were completed."

Who was this man Joliet?

ADVENTURER—Born in Quebec, Joliet was only 28 (seven years younger than Father Marquette) when they left St. Ignace together on their voyage of exploration. He was educated for the priesthood in Quebec but because he was always fond of adventure he made several expeditions to the head of the Great Lakes early in life.

Those first voyages prepared him for the hard task of heading the expedition to the Mississippi. It was on May 17, 1673, that Joliet, Marquette, and five companions set out from St. Ignace for their westward trip. One month later they beheld the Father of Waters. Their discovery gave France claim of title to all the vast country drained by the Mississippi and its tributaries.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Harold W. Gill, director of the Works Project Administration, in the 15 counties of upper Michigan, said today that 2,410 men will be without work this morning, crossed from the rolls temporarily because they have received relief continuously for 18 months or more. Of that number, 252 are from Delta county.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Weingartner, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Long, Miss Sophia Weingartner and Floyd VanDaele left yesterday for Weyerhaeuser, Wis., where they will spend the weekend with relatives and friends.

Manistique—A grand, celebration party at Birthday Grange hall Saturday, August 5, marked the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. William Reid, Gulliver, Mich. It was the first celebration of its kind in the community and was a memorable occasion for the 200 relatives and friends who attended.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—A walnut bookcase has been donated to the Carnegie public library as directed in the will of Solomon Greenhoot, it was stated yesterday by Miss Margaret Pease, librarian.

Escanaba—E. William Nelson, formerly of Escanaba, is now connected with the American State bank of Detroit in an executive capacity. Mr. Nelson is the son of Mrs. Bengta Nelson, South Tenth street.

Gladstone—Mrs. William Marble entertained Friday at a bridge luncheon at her home for her mother, Mrs. Watson W. Jackson of Hollywood, Calif., who is spending the summer months here as her guest.

Manistique—Louis Mueller and L. A. Danielson have been named delegates to the state American Legion convention at Battle Creek, September 1-3. Joseph Herbert, past department commander, is also scheduled for a seat at the annual gathering of Michigan veterans.

Rural Picnic

Dear Editor:

I was to a rural picnic at Gladstone yesterday. The announcer said if there were any complaints to make to complain to the Chamber of Commerce.

We stood around all day on garbage heaps in the hot sun without benefit of benches or anything.

I should think that with a beautiful park like Pioneer Trail Park close by that picnics should be held at such a park. However I guess the Chamber of Commerce thinks that the rural neighbors certainly are a bunch of chumps.

Yours truly,
Jeanne Rice,

Local Roads

Dear Editor:

On our road of three-quarters of a mile, there are four families with five licensed cars. Two milk trucks haul milk daily and various other people such as visitors, salesmen, etc., also use the road. Conservatively, five gallons of gas is used every day on this road. At three cents a gallon (state tax), this amounts to $54.75 a year. The snowplow on an average makes 10 to 15 trips per winter, or about 25 miles of driving. Say, two hours at $5 per hour, just about covers the snow removal. The grader makes a couple of ditch filling missions during the summer months which would cost about the same as the snow removal, or $20 to $25 a year.

You can see that this leaves a few dollars with which the county could afford a load or two of gravel every year in the worst spots. This road was graveled 20 ago for half a mile with a paper-thin coating of gravel. In 20 years time a little more could have been done in the way of maintenance, according to this peasant's way of thinking.

Peeved Peasant,
Rock, Route 1.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington. — Philippine President Elpidio Quirino received the customary formal amenities during his Washington visit but, privately, top officials breathed a sigh of relief when he departed.

Reason was a gingerly handled situation that astonished and embarrassed them. Three leading members of Quirino's party were prominent Jap collaborators and violent U. S. denouncers. They are:

Jose Yulo, chief justice of the supreme court in the Jap-created puppet government. Yulo was personally decorated by Emperor Hirohito for outstanding services to Japan. Yulo is now a member of Quirino's council of state.

Federico Mangahas, zealous supporter of the Japs and ghost writer of virulently anti-American speeches for top Filipino collaborators. Mangahas is now Quirino's private secretary.

Vicente Albano Pacis, leading collaborationist propagandist who poured out a steady stream of anti-American fulminations in the press and on the radio. He is press chief of Quirino's party.

President Quirino, personally, has an impeccable resistance record. His wife and other members of his family were killed by the Japs because of his steadfast refusal to collaborate. Friends explain the presence of the three collaborators in his party as due to "political necessity."

Quirino is seeking re-election this year in a very uncertain race. His leading opponent is Jose P. Laurel, who was president of the Jap puppet government. Despite his extreme collaborationist record, including a declaration of war against the U. S., Laurel was freed from prison in an amnesty proclaimed by his close friend and fellow collaborationist, the late President Manuel Roxas. Another strong candidate opposing Quirino is Jose Avelino, wily Tammany-type politician.

Quirino's friends say his three collaborationist associates are giving important help in his re-election campaign. This is particularly true of Yulo, credited with being one of the smartest businessmen and best money-raisers in the Philippines. Yulo is an intimate of Ambassador Joaquin M. Elizalde, who has represented his country in Washington off and on for a number of years. Elizalde is rated as the wealthiest man in the Philippines.

In Filipino circles it is claimed one reason for Quirino's visit was to promote a U. S. loan to Elizalde's extensive business interests.

Washington officials were particularly annoyed at the presence of the three collaborationists because of lack of enthusiasm about the whole idea of Quirino's visit. The plan originated with his campaign managers. They conceived it as a smart campaign maneuver. The official invitation was extended reluctantly and only after much wire-pulling.

FINDERS KEEPERS

Washington state's Senators Warren G. Magnuson, D., and Harry Cain, R., are at bitter loggerheads over the Tacoma postmaster. Tacoma is Cain's home town and he is demanding the appointment for one of his adherents, William E. Patrick, former army colonel. Magnuson is just as insistently supporting John McMonagle, disabled veteran who has been acting postmaster for four years.

Cain took the controversy directly to Magnuson, saying, "I thought a senator had the right to recommend the postmaster for his home town."

"Perhaps so, in some cases," retorted Magnuson, "but in this case there are two strikes against you. One is that my man was originally recommended by the congressman of his district and he has strong support in Tacoma. The other strike is that you Republicans are not in control this year as you were last. That makes a big difference, an dthat is why my man will get the appointment."

UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES

Accuracy of the census bureau's last 4,100,000 unemployment report is sharply questioned by the public affairs institute. According to Dr. Dewey Anderson, P. A. I. director, the figure is low by at least 600,000.

Anderson also sharply challenges Commerce Secretary Sawyer's contention that increase in unemployment is due largely to the influx of young new workers looking for jobs. Anderson says the statistics don't bear that out.

"A comparison of changes in the labor force during May-June," he declares, "shows that 800,000 fewer young people became active job seekers this year than during the same period last year. The official unemployment figures are not realistic. Large numbers of jobs are not being taken into consideration for various technical reasons that don't hold water on examination."

Mrs. H. J. Scott Re-Visits Scenes Of Her Childhood

Rapid River—When Professor and Mrs. H. J. Scott and children of Oakland, Calif., arrived here this week for a visit at the Pfeiffer-Winde home Mrs. Scott revisited the scenes of her early childhood for the first time in 45 years.

Mrs. Scott, who was Anna Mae Johnston, was born in Rapid River, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston. Her father was woods foreman for Stickney and Johnston, timber jobbers for the Garth Lumber company. The family moved to Tower, Minn., 45 years ago.

The Scotts took pictures of the home Mrs. Scott was born in, now occupied by the R. J. McPhersons, and also of other places she remembered from childhood.

Professor Scott is an instructor at the University of California in Berkeley and stopped here on his return west after a trip to New York City.

Parents of Son

A son, Gregory Charles, was born July 29 to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson of Berkeley, Calif. The baby is the second child and the first son in the family.

School Camp To Be Shown

Conservation Parley At Haven Hill

Michigan's pioneering efforts to eventually provide an outdoor education experience for some 150,000 high school students each year will be showcased for some of the nation's top men in education, government and industry at the conservation department's new Haven Hill education plant near Pontiac, Sept. 26-28.

The conference, spearheaded by the superintendent of public instruction, Lee M. Thurston, and the director of the conservation department, P. J. Hoffmaster, will switch on the second day to the Cedar lake camp, Waterloo recreation area near Jackson, where members can observe 70 Dearborn and Ann Arbor high students utilizing the outdoors as a classroom. The W. K. Kellogg Foundation is assisting in the arrangements.

The program at the Cedar lake school camp is modeled after the experimental one conceived and carried out in the Yankee Springs recreation area near Hastings last November. It will demonstrate how pupils can be made into better citizens when they learn firsthand how their future welfare depends on working and living together, understanding requirements for healthful living and joys of physical labor, acceptance of those of different races and creeds and the conservation of natural resources.

To see and discuss Michigan's progress with new techniques in educating its high school youth, will be representatives of the U. S. Department of Interior, U. S. Office of Education, National Education Association, Michigan Education Association, American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, American Federation of Teachers, National Association of Secondary School Principals, American Association of University Women, and National Life Camps, Inc. of New York. Heads of universities, superintendents of public instruction and directors of conservation of several states, who contemplate instituting similar programs, also will attend, as will Roy E. Larsen, president of Time magazine, and a number of industrialists.

Hunting Tags To Be Ready

3,700 License Agents Get Them Sept. 15

Michigan's 3,700 hunting license agents will have a stock of licenses for the coming hunting season by Sept. 15, the conservation department reports. Application blanks for the special antlerless deer season also will be distributed with first license shipments to dealers since the applications must be returned to the department's general operations division by Oct. 10. No hunting season opens before Oct. 1.

License fees are the same as in 1948: $2 for small game hunting and $3.50 for deer hunting by residents; $15 for small game and $35 for deer hunting by nonresidents, with nonresident archers paying a $10 rate. Trapping licenses are $2. Over a million hunting and trapping licenses were issued last year.

In addition to the Michigan license, hunters of ducks and geese must purchase, attach and cancel with a signature a federal migratory waterfowl stamp. Stamps can be purchased only at the post office.

Rapid River

Observes Birthday

Rapid River, Mich.—Mrs. George Ames, who was 77 years old August 6, observed the day at the home of a close friend, Mrs. John Peterson, at Ensign. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Zeph Rushford, with whom she makes her home, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Edwin Nelson, and children. A birthday lunch was served, the centerpiece, a large birthday cake, one of Mrs. Rushford's gifts to her mother.

Air Force Seeks Aviation Cadets From This Area

An Air Force aviation cadet procurement team of three veteran Air Force pilot officers is currently visiting in Escanaba for the purpose of interviewing young men interested in applying for Air Force aviation cadet training.

These officers, Major Ralph E. Monroe, Captain William F. Evans and 1st Lt. M. W. Hanna, will administer entrance and qualifying examinations that will provisionally qualify all applicants for either pilot or navigator training as cadets. Their headquarters in Escanaba is at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station at 1215 Ludington street.

To meet the increasing need for trained navigators, the U. S. Air Force is expanding its aviation cadet program this fall by opening an aviation cadet navigator school at Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Texas. The first class will begin November 1, with a new class starting every month thereafter.

The Air Force is currently training pilots at the rate of nearly 5,000 a year. With the inception of navigator training, hundreds more men will be needed to train as aviation cadets.

Men accepted for Air Force aviation cadet training, either pilot or navigator, must be between the ages of 20 and 26½, with two years of college education or be able to pass an equivalent examination. Single or married men are being accepted.

The aviation cadet program offers 12 months of the world's best flying, academic, and military training. Graduates receive pilots or navigators wings, a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force reserves, and an assignment to three years of active duty with an operational Air Force unit. Dairymen Will Hold Banquet

At U. P. State Fair Wednesday Night

An Upper Peninsula Dairymen's Banquet will be held in Escanaba, Wednesday evening, August 17 in connection with the Upper Peninsula State Fair, it has been announced by W. B. Lutz, superintendent of dairy cattle at the fair.

The banquet will be held in the new 4-H club dining hall at 7:00 p. m. This event is sponsored by the Board of Managers of the U. P. State Fair.

Outstanding members of the dairy herd improvement associations will be honored at the banquet as guests of the fair. Special invitations to dairymen who have exceptionally high herd averages and to dairymen who have shown the greatest improvement in their herds are being mailed this week. However, all interested dairymen and others interested in the development of the U. P. dairy industry are invited to attend this banquet.

The main speaker will be Dr. J. B. Fitch, head of the dairy department at the University of Minnesota. He is also one of the judges at the fair. Other speakers will be Mr. Clifford Finley, one of the judges and Mr. Charles Figy, director of the State Department of Agriculture. Musical entertainment will be provided by the fair. Mr. J. L. Heiman, Delta county agricultural agent, will act as toastmaster.

tion regarding Air Force aviation cadet training are urged to contact members of the procurement team between the hours of 8:15 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. daily, Aug. 11, 12 and 15th.

14 Forest Fires Near Munising During Summer

Munising—To date this year, 14 forest fires have occurred on the Munising district of the Hiawatha national forest, burning over an area of 7.93 acres. Of these, five were caused by lightning burning over 0.15 acres while nine man-caused fires burned over 7.78 acres.

Five, or over 50 percent, of the man caused fires were due to careless smokers (travelers, fishermen and hobo), 1 by debris burning, 1 logging operation (spark from a skidding tractor), 1 a cooking fire left without fully extinguishing by fishermen, and one caused by a burning building. The average area per man caused fire was 0.8 acre as compared to only 0.03 acre per lightning fire.

Word has been received here that Mrs. P. O. Potter, mother of Miss Alice Potter, suffered a stroke August 2 and is confined to Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Potter is well known here, having visited here several times, the latest for three weeks this summer. She is 83 and has been very active and alert for her age.

Robert Ball of Michigan left today for Goodfellow field, San Angelo, Texas, after enlisting in the U. S. Air Force as a flying cadet.

Joyce Hartman has returned to Chicago following a several days visit at the home of Mrs. Art Lausen, Masonville and Mrs. Floyd Anutta, 217 South 6th street.

Mrs. G. House and Frederick Holzgrebe left today for Waukegan, Ill., where they will visit with Mrs. Burr, a friend of Mrs. House.

Phil Thorell has returned to Milwaukee after spending a week as the guest of Miss Lois Olson at the family cottage at Bark River.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark have returned to Oak Park, Ill., after spending several days as the guests at the Flath home.

Master Sgt. Irving Cass has returned to Kirtland field, Albuquerque, New Mexico after spending a week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Cass, 114 South 10th street.

Mrs. Edwin Parks and daughter, Mary Jane, have returned to their home in Chicago following a week's visit at the home of Miss Ann Curran, 425 South 8th street.

AT THE RECEPTION following their wedding July 23 at St. Patrick's church are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Remski. The bride is the former Therese LeClair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene LeClair, 405 South 19th street. Mr. and Mrs. Remski will live in Detroit in the apartment they have taken at 10150 Sterritt. Birthday Party

Miss Kay McMartin, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn McMartin of 302 South 18th street, was guest of honor at a birthday party given for her by a group of friends at her home last Saturday. Kay received many gifts. Those attending were Fatsy Jones, Barbara Lee Johnson, Janice Olson, Sally Peterson and Pam Wyss. Kay was seven Saturday.

Evening Star Meeting

The Evening Star society is meeting this evening at 7:30 at the North Star hall. A grocery party open to the public will follow the meeting.

Entertains Travelers

P. A. Kennedy was host to Jean Raspail, Philippe Andrieu, Jacques Bouchard and Yves Korbenda, the four young Frenchmen from Canada who are retracing the route of Father Marquette, at a luncheon Thursday. Octave Perron, who was also a guest, enjoyed talking to the young men in their native tongue.

Birthday Party

Bonnie Ann Forton was entertained by a group of friends Wednesday, on her third birthday anniversary, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forton, 320 South 10th street.

A pink and blue color scheme was used in decorating. Bonnie received many beautiful gifts.

Among those attending were her grandfather, William Wells, Mr. and Mrs. George Houle, Mrs. Irvin Cashin, her sister, Mary Eugenia and her brother, Bobby.

Children Enjoy
Beach Party

A combination basket social and beach party, sponsored by the city recreation department under the direction of Bertha LaChapell, was held Thursday at Ludington park.

Lunches were packed in beautifully decorated baskets and boxes which were judged at noon with prizes for the most outstanding. Lunch was served at the beach followed by a swimming party.

Much talent was displayed in the decorating with many unusual ideas carried out. The one judged as the most beautiful was a box completely covered with cut flowers. Among the most original was a box in the form of a wagon, and another as a miniature snack bar.

Prizes were awarded to the following: most beautiful, Judy Groos; most unusual, Barbara Dart and Patsy Eade; largest, Ann Cayen; smallest, Darlene Boudreau; most colorful, Patricia Hardy and Barbara McRae; most original, Jay Larson, Jean Ann Desmond and Larry McRae. A guest prize went to Richard Pierce.

The last of the series of parties will be held August 24 and will be in the form of a gala dress-up party. All children are invited to attend.

Shower Given For Miss Hebert

Miss Marian L. Hebert, bride-elect, was complimented at a miscellaneous bridal shower Wednesday evening at which Mrs. Mrs. Eugene A. Hebert and Mrs. John Hebert entertained at the Eugene A. Hebert home, Lake Shore Road.

Gladioli in pastel colors were effectively arranged throughout the rooms and decorated the serving table. Mrs. Thor Nilsen of Oak Park, Ill., presided at the silver service. The honor guest was presented with many lovely gifts for her new home.

Miss Hebert's marriage to Lt. Robert Leslie Kallin is taking place the latter part of August.

Bethel Quartet At Calvary Sunday

The male quartet of Bethel college and Seminary, St. Paul, will present a sacred program at Calvary Baptist church Sunday morning. Members of the quartet are Jim Rentz of Mora, Minn., Robert Sandin of Carney, Mich., Paul Leafblad of Bayfield, Wis., and Don Patet of St. Paul. These young men have been traveling for and representing their school for several years and have gone from coast to coast, appearing in some of the largest churches of the country as well as on radio networks.

Joanne Bloniarz
Wed In Chicago

Perronville, Mich.—Miss Joanne Bloniarz, of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bloniarz of Perronville, became the bride of Walter J. Kolodziej, son of Mrs. Mary Kolodziej of Chicago, in a ceremony at Chicago Saturday, Aug. 4.

The Rev. Victor A. Karch of Menominee, Mich., the bride's godfather, celebrated the nuptial high mass at 11 a. m. and officiated at the double-ring marriage services, in St. Helen church. The church choir sang the music of the mass and the church organist played the traditional Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding music.

The bride approached the altar, graced with tall lighted tapers and vases of gladioli, on the arm of her father. She was preceded by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Alexander Kuzniar of Chicago, her matron of honor; Miss Helen Bartozek of Perronville, Miss Virginia Dreja of Chicago, Mrs. Theodore Smaren, her sister of Chicago, and Miss Maurine Krause of Bark River, bridesmaids.

Master Robert Bloniarz carried the rings. The bride couple was escorted by a miniature bride and groom, Marie Bloniarz, a niece of the bride, and William Krachinski of Michigan City, Ind., a nephew.

Stanley Zalesny of Chicago was best man and Fred Bloniarz, Theodore Samaren and Walter Zalesny of Chicago ushered.

The bride was dressed in a gown of ivory satin, cut in colonial design, with beaded bodice, high neckline, court train edged with lace, and short puff sleeves. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a crown of pearl and rhinestone. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of white gladioli and lilies of the valley, centered with orchids.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids wore identical gowns in rainbow colors which included orchid, pink, green, blue and yellow. The gowns were fashioned from stardust marquisette and had fitted bodices, ruff necklines, puff sleeves and full skirts. They wore short gloves and large picture hats in matching colors, also styled from stardust marquisette. They carried cascade bouquets of picardy gladioli centered with orchids.

The miniature bride wore an ivory satin gown fashioned like the bride's and a net veil with a crown of pearl beads.

Both the miniature bridegroom and the ring bearers wore white linen suits. The best man and ushers wore white coats with maroon ties and dark trousers. They also wore the traditional

Olive Gamache,
Lee Roy White
Married Today

Miss Olive Gamache, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gamache of Cornell, became the bride of Lee Roy White, also of Cornell, at a ceremony performed at 10 o'clock this morning in the rectory study of Central Methodist church.

The marriage service was read by Rev. Karl J. Hammar.

The bride wore a gown of pink taffeta with a net overdress, styled with a fitted bodice and full bouffant skirt and a matching headress and shoulder veil. Her flowers were pink and red roses and carnations. The maid of honor wore blue taffeta, her gown of like style, with a blue headress and shoulder veil, and her flowers were rubrum lilies.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon at an unannounced destination. They will live in Cornell where Mr. White, who is in the evergreen business, is constructing a new warehouse and home.

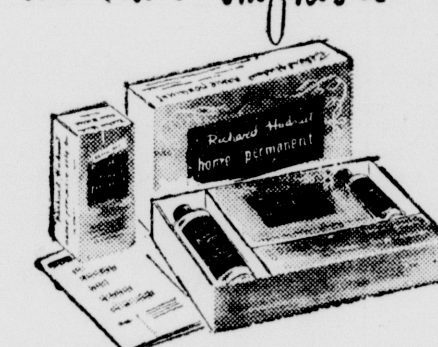

Fully 84 per cent of the weight of an average passenger automobile is steel.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party and immediate family members was held at St. George hall in Chicago and later a wedding dinner for 350 guests was served at St. George hall. A dance and reception, with music by Chester Smales, a friend of the bridegroom, followed.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y. and Ontario, Canada, the newlyweds will live in Chicago where the bridegroom is employed by Bucyrus-Erie company. The bride is a graduate of Harris high school and has been employed in Chicago.

Friends from Three Oaks, Mich., Michigan City, Ind., and Perronville were wedding guests.

Anybody Here Who Can Charleston?

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP)—Junior, get Pa-pa the kneecap oil—the Charleston's coming back.
What's the Charleston?
Why, son, the Charleston is the granddaddy of the jitterbug. Back in the mid-1920s, when everybody had to take shower baths because the tub was full of hand-made prohibition gin, you couldn't even deposit money in the bank unless you proved you could do the Charleston. It showed you were alive.

Do I mean it was a dance? Junior, no dance ever hit the country as hard as the Charleston. It was THE dance. If a man wasn't willing to shimmy-shimmy back and forth and then risk his right tarsal bone by throwing it over his left femur, he was strictly a cad out of tune with his time.
Everybody did it. La Belle Joan Crawford started her fame as a dramatic actress as a result of a fancy prize-winning, hip Charleston movement. And Ginger Rogers was able to get her independence from Independence, Mo., because of the same swivel swing. Later some movie critic mentioned that both girls had sparkling eyes. This was a sad discovery.
It changed them from hoofers into actresses. And after that a gal covers up her legs, exposes her bosoms like a half-shucked corn-cob, and begins emoting about socially significant themes she doesn't know from dime store jewelry.

But to get back to the Charleston. A simple, primitive, agile movement based some distance below the bust: "So many young people have come in wanting to dance the Charleston that I have had to teach it to all our instructors," said Charles Columbus, dance director of the Fred Astaire studios here.

Hard On Legs
Columbus says the dance originated among South Carolina Negroes. He can trace the sequence from the Charleston down through "The Varsity Drag, the Shag, Truckin', The Lindy Hop, and jitterbugging." But it leaves him a little leg weary—when he demonstrates.

He is a veteran dancing star himself who twinkle-tooted some 25 years on Broadway. He has done the ballroom specialties, thrown the girls over his back for oldtime Palace theater vaudeville audiences in Adagio routines. And like any showman he still wants to give the paying customer any particular muscular madness he prefers.

"There was nothing like the Charleston for popularity," Columbus said. "They danced it in the living rooms, the kitchens, the back porch, and standing up in rumble seats."
"It's popularity now is part of the current revival of old tunes. They show it in the movies with the music of that time—and people want to dance it again."

Her guests were Kenneth Segerstrom, Dolly, Patsy and Pat Moberg, Darla Turan, Janis and Jean Johnson, Nancy Forslund, Burton Peterson, Kent and Kirk Peterson.

Columbus thinks the American public is more dance crazy now than it has ever been. The pupils, he said, range from Eleanor Roosevelt, a longtime patron of the dance, down to gangsters.

"The gangsters," he said, "specialize in the rumba. The rumba is a showoff dance. It makes a man feel he is somebody."

Mrs. Roosevelt, incidentally, is strictly a conservative ballroom dancer. She hasn't come in to freshen up her Charleston—if she ever danced it.

Janey Lou and John Peterson, Sally and Lola Morrison and Robert Cole of Gladstone. Rhea Mae received many gifts.

Lousy Lovers? It Isn't True

Ruark Refutes Dig By French Dame

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—(For one more boring time I see some undistinguished French dame with an axe to grind in the papers has launched the old space-grabbing standby that Americans are lousy, lazy lovers, inept husbands and gauche knee-pinchers who do all their pinching in the nightclubs.

I have wondered for many years just how this base libel began, and why it continues to be popular. I have wondered also why we dignify the senseless remarks of visiting spongers as to the vanity of our women, the flabbiness of our men, and the stuffiness of our central heating. It just must be the old American love or tooth-marks on the feeding hand.

American men, says this Lili dame, who is hustling space to sell some new and doubtless ridiculous fashions, know less about love than high school boys in France.

What American men? Clark Gable? Joe DiMaggio? Sonny Tufts? Cite me three French high school boys, by name and address, who are expert in bourgeois dawdling, and maybe I can beat the bushes around Kansas or Texas and come up with three of our own who can spot these nymphic prodigies 10 points and still run 'em a dead heat.

Nightclub Habitués

American men spend all their time in nightclubs, says Lili, whose last name nobody has bothered to print. What men spend all their time in which nightclubs? How many people do you know who can afford to spend all their time in nightclubs, and how many nightclubs have we per capita? Enough to hold all the American men?

Frenchmen, says this bim, marry for companionship. Y ever been to France? Frenchmen have made a career of sitting at sidewalk cafes, strictly stag, ogling the passing fluff, and they don't go home until they sweep 'em off the sidewalks. In France the petite Amie is the accepted social custom, since it is recognized that a great percentage of marriages are made on a cash and carry business.

Between the cafe and the cutie around the corner, the French bourgeois uses his home base largely for complaining about the cost of food and sleeping.

Let us look, now at the romantic Spaniard, at home and in Latin America. Latins are the greatest conversational lovers in the world, but it is about nine parts conversation and one part performance. The boys sit at the corner bodeness of our central heating. It just must be the old American love or tooth-marks on the feeding hand.

ga and whistle at the ninas sacrosas, but a lot of them would run like thieves if the girl whistled back. They are great oglers out with the chips down I will back any towhead from Minnesota against a squadron of greased-up laddybucks with sideburns.

As for married love, in the pure Latin concept, as soon as the ring is on the finger the former romance ends. The mamacita runs the household accounts and provides as many heirs as the papacito thinks he needs in his business, but when he is looking for fun it ain't in his own house.

London's A Man's Town

The Britisher is largely a more moral man, in the frisky sense, but when he is in search of companionship he finds it in the pub, at the cricket field, in his club. Anyone who has ever been to London knows it strictly as a man's town, with its shops and amusements tailored to a masculine taste.

The Italian talks a pretty good fight in the amour department, but he is essentially a singer and an eater and a public character, himself, and after the bloom is off the lily he too likes to hang around the wineshops and romance himself into thinking he is the reincarnation of Don Juan, except it's too hot and it's easier to sit and sip.

I realize there are some pretty sweeping generalities here, for which I fault the opposition, and there are some fiery Englishmen and some faithful Cubans and some ardent French husbands and some Italians full of zing and sippereo. But I will stack the average American against the average anybody for consideration of his lawful wedded spouse, and when it comes to the deep-dyed romeo, that is purely a case for the in-

111 Cedar StreetEmployment Due
To IncreaseLocal Situation Not Yet Serious

Current employment in Schoolcraft county is estimated at approximately 3000 men and women and of this number about 1700 are residents of the City of Manistique.

There are approximately 350 persons unemployed in Schoolcraft county at the present time, and of this number 175 persons are drawing UC benefits. Although the number of unemployed is not too serious in relation to the labor force in area, it is unusually high for this time of year. A year ago there were only 150 unemployed and about 50 persons drawing UC benefits.

Usually at this time of year employment in seasonal work such as construction, tourist industry, etc., reduces unemployment to a minimum. However, employment in several local manufacturing concerns has been erratic because of uncertainty in production schedules and has resulted in a higher rate of unemployment.

It is anticipated that employment should increase slightly during the next 60 days but not enough to reduce unemployment to a normal minimum.

Bethel Quartette
To Present Concert

The Bethel Male Quartette, a singing organization from Bethel College and Seminary, a Baptist school located at St. Paul, Minn., will appear in a concert at the Bethel Baptist church in Manistique Saturday at eight o'clock.

The four young men, Jim Rentz, Mora, Minn.; Robert Sandin, Carney; Paul Leafblad, Bayfield, Wis.; and Don Patet, St. Paul, Minn., are enroute to cities of the east coast and are singing in various churches as they go. They have represented their school for several years. That they are good is indicated by the fact that the Retail Merchants Association of St. Paul, Minn., voted them the best singing quartette in the city. The public is cordially invited to attend this concert.

Wm. J. Sheahan
Takes Special
Course At NWU

William J. Sheahan, county prosecuting attorney, has just returned from Evanston, Ill., where he attended a special short course for prosecuting attorneys at the School of Law of Northwestern University.

The course at the University took ten days, but preparation for it required a long period of intensive study, the course being in the nature of a recitation period for what has gone on before for the past three months.

Deans of nine law schools, including Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton were in charge of the lectures and class periods. The course, itself, was confined to prosecuting attorneys, district attorneys, U. S. attorneys and attorneys general. The course covered all civil and criminal aspects of the prosecutor's office. It is an endowed scholarship course, the tuition fees required being but a small part of the cost of conducting it.

Taking the course were 170 prosecuting attorneys from 42 different states of the Union.

Former Highway
Engineer Here
Now At Gladwin

John E. McCarthy, who was for many years Schoolcraft county road engineer, has been appointed engineer of the Gladwin County Road commission, according to recent announcement by the state highway department.

McCarthy, the report states, has a long background of engineering and highway administration; for eighteen years as superintendent-engineer for Schoolcraft County Road Commission and for three years manager at Blaney Park, where he installed the present water and sewer systems.

The state highway department recently signed a contract with the Gladwin county road commission for the maintenance of state trunklines in that county. Gladwin is the 68th county to maintain state trunklines under contract.

Schoolcraft 4-H
Clubs To Exhibit

Schoolcraft County 4-H club boys and girls are making preparations for exhibiting at the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba next week.

Club members will enter in competition in handicraft, sewing, gardening, canning, cooking, poultry and dairying. Gerald Gray of Cooks and Jerome Allen of Hiawatha township will enter in the achievement booth contest to compete for a trip to the National Livestock Show at Waterloo, Iowa.

Handicraft, clothing, and dairy exhibits are by invitation while other classes are open to all enrolled in 4-H clubs. Handicraft exhibits will be made by Henry Ketola and Norman Nelson of Seney; Kerry Burns of Germfask; and Carl Klagstad of Manistique township. Clothing exhibitors will be Nadine Curry of Seney; Sally Harris of Germfask, and Janice Ekblad of Gulliver.

Gary Musselman of Germfask and John Klagstad of Manistique township will act as herdsmen for the county dairy herd. There will be Guernsey and Holstein herds exhibited. The Holstein herd will be made up of four animals belonging to Joe Hardy, Jr., Cooks; Esther Clarke and Henry Lockhart, Doyle township; and Kerry Burns, Germfask. Guernseys will be exhibited by John Carl Klagstad, Harry Nelson, and Jerry Raskey of Manistique township; Phillip Olson, Thompson; David Leny, Gulliver; Gary Musselman and Kenneth Streeter of Germfask.

Parking meters were first installed in American cities in 1935, when six municipalities put them in.

District Softball Tournament Opens Tonight; Schedule Revised

Prep Gridders Play Saturday

Final Workouts Are Scheduled Tonight

The stage is set for the U. P.'s greatest sporting show, the annual All Star Classic to be held on the Negaunee Athletic field Saturday, August 13th at 8:30.

The South squad under direction of Eddie Jankowski, all time Packer great and University of Wisconsin product will hold their final workout Friday night under the lights while the North under Russ Lucksell and Win Brockmeyer teammates at Minnesota, held their night practice Thursday and will wind up with light drills Friday.

Neither coach has committed himself on a starting lineup, competition for starting posts are that keen.

At halftime fans will be treated to a precision drill by the famed Ahmed Temple Shrine Patrol who have worked up a special blackout number. Sharing the spotlight with the patrol will be Miss Rosemary Schwab, Miss Majorette of America. Considered one of the nation's top baton manipulators, Miss Schwab will climax her exhibition with a fine baton number that will be nothing less than sensational.

Five hundred special reserved seats will go on sale for persons who do not have tickets, at the field ticket office Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained in the morning at the downtown offices at Ted's Shell Service, Millers' News and Jerry's Bar.

Purses Open For Ball Star Ill With Polio

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 12 (AP)—Purses opened wide today for a baseball player critically ill with polio.

The gesture was for Frank Okrie, shortstop for Albuquerque in the Class C West Texas-New Mexico league. He was stricken with infantile paralysis Wednesday and is in an iron lung in a Lamesa, Tex., hospital.

Contributions have passed the $2,000 mark.

Eight-year-old Dorothy Crampston said she had no money. But she offered to sell her prize possession—a ball autographed by the 1935 World Champion Detroit Tigers. She said Okrie and his family could have what she gets from the sale.

A ball bearing the names of the greats of the 1915 New York Yankees was offered by 64-year-old C. H. Baird.

Albuquerque fans organized a radio appeal for financial aid for the family last night. More than $2,000 was pledged in the first three hours. Contributions continued pouring in throughout the night. A "Frank Okrie" night already is being planned at the Albuquerque park.

The 27-year-old player is a former infantry sergeant with the purple heart received in the Battle of the Bulge. He was on his way to a possible league fielding record and was considered a threat for national fielding honors. At the halfway mark, his fielding percentage was .945.

He is from a baseball family. A brother, Fred, is utility catcher for the Washington Senators. Born in Detroit, Okrie played in the Evangeline and Cotton States leagues before the war. Signed by Little Rock in the Southern Association after returning from Europe, he was optioned to Amarillo in the West Texas-New Mexico league. He later was sold to Albuquerque.

Horseshoe Pitching Champions Crowned

Russ Robitaille won the singles championship in the city horseshoe pitching tournament last night, defeating Jim Christensen in the finals, 50-40, 50-40 and 50-48.

The defending doubles champs, C. Moyle and J. Christensen, retained their title, defeating Joe Gardner and C. Anderson in the finals, 25-25, 25-22, 25-10 and 25-4.

The Moyle-Christensen duo went to the finals on victories over Harold and Jim Robitaille, 25-9, 25-18, and J. Belfry and Richards, 25-0, 25-9. The Christensen-Gardner team defeated Rene and Clarence Robitaille, 25-5, 25-21, and Russell and Ray Robitaille, 25-21, 25-21.

Local Cubs Beat Old Timers Here

The Escanaba Cubs defeated a cordon of Old Timers in an exhibition baseball game last night but the final count was lost in a maze of irregularities. At one stage of the game the Old Timers had no less than 17 men on the field.

The score at the end of three innings of play was 6 to 1 in favor of the Cubs.

Canada has 144 ports of entry which handle vehicles, 48 for railways and 91 at airports.

Several changes in the schedule for the opening round games of the district softball tournament, starting tonight, were announced this morning by the Escanaba Softball association, sponsors of the tournament in cooperation with the Escanaba Recreation department. The changes were necessitated to avoid intervening darkness for late games previously scheduled at Royce Park and Webster Park diamonds.

In Class B, Carney and the Gladstone Legion, previously scheduled for a 7:15 game at Royce Park will play at 6:45 o'clock on the same diamond.

In Class C Stonington and the Escanaba K-C's, scheduled for 6:00 o'clock at Royce Park, will play at Ludington Park diamond instead, the game to begin at 6:30 o'clock. The Boilemakers and PCH Welders will play at 5:30 o'clock at Webster, instead of 6:00 as previously scheduled. The Power and Light team will meet the Birds Eye at 5:30 o'clock at Royce Park instead of 7:00 o'clock at Webster park.

Two minor changes also were made in the Class C schedule for Saturday evening. The Escanaba Daily Press will play the winner of tonight's St. Joe Booster-Big R Cafe game at 6:30 Saturday night at Royce Park, instead of 7:00 and Ensign will play the winner of tonight's Clairmont's-Harnischfeger T-C game at the Dock diamond Saturday at 6:30 instead of 7:00 p. m. Both changes were made to avoid the possibility of darkness before conclusion of the game.

The complete schedule for tonight follows:

Class A—Paper Mill vs. Larmay's, lighted field, 9:45 p. m.

Class B—Carney vs. Gladstone Legion, 6:45, Royce Park; Escanaba Steam Laundry vs. Marble Arms, 7:15, lighted field; Larry's Bar vs. People's Hotel, 8:30, lighted field.

Class C—Escanaba K-C vs. Stonington, 6:30, Ludington park; Boilemakers vs. PCH Welders, 5:30, Webster park; Power and Light vs. Birds, 5:30, Royce park; St. Joe Boosters vs. Big R Cafe, 6:30, Dock diamond; Clairmonts vs. Harnischfeger T-C, 6:00, lighted field.

The tournament will be resumed Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the lighted field with the Gladstone Lions meeting the winner of tonight's Escanaba K-C Stonington game. Games are scheduled every hour and a half at the lighted field, starting at two o'clock.

Semi-finals will be played Sunday afternoon, with the championship games Sunday night.

State Open Golf Tournament Opens

Flint, Mich., Aug. 12 (AP)—Most of Michigan's top golfers swing into action today in the 1949 State Open championship.

Missing, however, was defending titlist Chick Harbert of Detroit, who is currently in Chicago competing the world's championship golf match.

A field of 159 started over the 2,568-yard Flint golf course for an 18-hole warm up today. They will play 18 more holes tomorrow.

Sunday the top 64 will compete in the 36-hole finals.

The experts guess that a score of 152 or 153 will qualify for the finals, and about 280 should be a good mark for finishing near the top.

It will take a mighty linksman to equal the 265 mark set by Champion Harbert last year. That score set a record for the Michigan Open.

Two former champions, Al Watrous and Gib Sellers, tried out the course yesterday and each turned in cards of 69. A heavy rain kept other contenders off the course.

Perkins Will Play Cornell Sunday

Perkins will play its last home league game of the season Sunday with Cornell and the largest crowd of the year is anticipated.

Lawrence Beav's public address system will again be used for the entertainment of the fans, for music before the game and major league scores every three innings.

Canadians estimate their country has 1,290,260 square miles of forested area.

NEW COACH — Robert P. Tacker, Terre Haute, Indiana, is the new coach at Hermansville high school.

All Star Grid Game Tonight

Expect 90,000 Fans At Soldier Field

By JIM HARTNETT

Chicago, Aug. 12 (AP)—Football's gaudy, glimmering extravaganza—the 16th annual All-Star classic tonight will pit a squad of 70 collegians against the Philadelphia Eagles before upwards of 90,000 spectators in Soldier Field.

Coach Greasy Neale's National Football League champion Eagles were rated last night as 10 point favorites over the All-Star retinue coached by Bud Wilkinson, the split-T mentor from Oklahoma. However, the records show that the collegians have sometimes won when few thought victory was possible.

In the 1948 lake-front football show, the Chicago Cardinals, coached by Jimmy Conzelmann, romped to a 28 to 0 triumph over an All-Star team coached by Notre Dame's Frank Leahy. The over-all series stands at eight victories for the pros, five for the collegians, and two ties. The first game of the series between the All-Stars and the Chicago Bears in 1934 wound up in a scoreless tie.

Although the hot weather experts favor the Eagles to down the collegians, the champs probably won't hit pay dirt through the Star's line. Both All-Star players and coaches are pretty confident of that.

The collegians' line will be just as big, just as tough and just as speedy as anything the Eagles display.

The probable starting lineups:

College All-Stars

Barney Poole, (Miss), LE Phil O'Reilly, (Purdue), LT Marty Wendell, (ND), LG Charles Bednarik, (Penn.), C William Fischer, (ND), RG Al De Rogatis, (Duke), RT Mel Sheehan, (Mo), QB Pete Elliott, (Mich), RE George Taliaferro, (Ind), LH Jerry Williams, (Wash. Escanaba Golfers Win Team Title For 4th Year In Row

The Escanaba Country club won the team championship Thursday for the fourth consecutive year in the Upper Peninsula golf tournament, nosing out the Oak Crest club of Iron Mountain, 598 to 599, in the 35th annual tournament being held at Iron Mountain and Norway. The qualifying medal play was reduced to 18 holes because of a heavy rain in the morning at Iron Mountain.

In instances where golfers played the full four rounds of qualifying play, two rounds at Norway and two at Iron Mountain, only the first round scores at Iron Mountain were tabulated.

Medal play got under way this morning in all flights. Morning rounds in the championship bracket were played at Iron Mountain and afternoon rounds at Norway.

In the team championship, Escanaba Country club scores were: John Taggart 121, Elmer Swanson 115, Tony Cass 124, Ray Hirm 120 and Harry Hogan 118.

The Highland team of Escanaba finished third in the team event with 621, as follows: John Milkovich, 123, Ron Hirm, 121, Ed Gravelle 135, Harris 118 and Jim Douglas 123.

Tom Messinger of Portage Lake club, Houghton, was low medalist with 113 for 27 holes. Elmer Swanson of Escanaba posted a 115.

The pairings in the championship bracket follow:

Ray Hirm, Escanaba vs. Gene Kreutz, Menominee.

Bill Farn, Ishpeming vs. Phil Jacobs, Soo.

E. Swanson, Escanaba vs. S. Soderland, Escanaba.

Pro Basketball Leagues Combine

Chicago, Aug. 12 (AP)—Big time professional basketball was one big happy family today, although the newly merged National Basketball association split its membership into two divisions.

The representatives of the nation's outstanding pro teams divided its 18-team membership into the National and American divisions. Then to make the loop more widely, the moguls further split the divisions into Eastern and Western sections.

The new setup resulting from the recent merger of the National Basketball league and the Basketball Association of America is as follows:

National division (Eastern section)—Syracuse, Indianapolis, Sheboygan and Anderson. (Western section)—Tri-Cities (Moline, Davenport and Rock Island), Denver, Waterloo and Milwaukee.

American division (Eastern)—Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. (Western)—Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Rochester and Fort Wayne.

Indians Are Overtime Champions Of Majors

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians have hit upon a sure-fire permanent formula—extra inning games. The only trouble is they can't get the opposing teams to go along with them as often as they would like.

The Tribe is in second place today, four and a half games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees, but they're easily the overtime champions.

Including last night's 12-inning marathon with the Chicago White Sox, the Indians have played 14 games that went beyond the ninth inning this season. They've won 13 of them. They copped last night's by 8-5.

On the other hand, the Yankees own the poorest overtime record in the league—only three victories in 11 such games. No club is even close to the Indians. The next best record is held by the third place Boston Red Sox, who show an unimposing 4-3 mark.

Home Run Williams

The Red Sox helped tighten the race by knocking off the Yankees, 7-6, in regulation nine innings, although for a while it looked as if their game would also move into extra frames. A single by Bobby Doerr in the last half of the sixth scored Ted Williams from second, broke up a 6-6 deadlock, and cut New York's margin over the third place Sox to five and a half games.

Williams wielded the big bat for the Sox. He hammered his 29th home run and added a couple of singles besides a base on balls.

Joe DiMaggio accounted for the first three Yankee runs with a home run over the left field screen, with two mates aboard. It was his 11th in 42 games and his sixth against Red Sox pitching.

Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau used 20 players and six pitchers to down the Sox. After overcoming a 5-3 deficit with two runs in the eighth, the Indians won in the 12th when Chicago Second Baseman Cass Michaels scored widely to first in an attempt to complete a double play. Johnnie Berardino scored from second on the error. Bob Feller, last of six Cleveland hurlers, was awarded the victory, his 11th and fifth straight.

Luke Easter, the Pacific Coast Negro star, made his first appearance with the Tribe, grounding out in a pinch-hitting role in the eighth.

Brooklyn broke a four-day deadlock for first place in the National league with St. Louis, by outslugging the Philadelphia Phils, 10-7. The victory put the Dodgers a half game up on the Cardinals, who were idle.

A home run by Pee Wee Reese with two mates aboard in the top of the eighth, snapped a 7-7 tie. A pair of four-batters by Catcher Andy Seminick had kept the Phils in the game up to then.

Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, in the rubber tilt of their three-game series. A single by Stan Rojek followed by Johnny Hopp's triple and Ralph Kiner's fly gave the Bucs two runs in the eighth.

The New York Giants and Boston Braves had to settle for a 7-7 tie when rain halted proceedings in the last half of the eighth.

Adrian Zabala, Giant pitcher, took sick during the fifth inning and was taken to a hospital. It was learned he was pitching with a fever of 101.

All other teams enjoyed a day off.

Mr. Tacker is ambitious and in his future plans, he is already making plans for the summer of 1950 to enter the University to begin earning credits towards his Master's degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Tacker will arrive in Hermansville early during the week of August 22 where they will reside during the school year.

Mr. Tacker has accepted the position as Hermansville high school coach for the 1949-1950 school year. He was graduated June, 1949 with a B. S. degree from Indiana State teachers' College, Terre Haute, Ind. His specialties are basketball and track. He can also direct baseball and swimming. In addition to physical education, Mr. Tacker has a major in industrial arts. This school year in addition to coaching, Mr. Tacker will teach physics and history.

Following his graduation from Germeyer Technical high school, Terre Haute, he was immediately inducted in the army and spent 16 months in Florida, eight months in Hawaii, and one year on the island of Guam with the "Twenty-third Air Force. After his honorable discharge in January, 1946, he entered Indiana State Teachers College. He was greatly interested in sports and physical education participating while in high school and college in three major sports and several minor sports. He is capable and qualified for this position due to his participation and college training to teach physical education and to teach many sports. He has received recognition and letters for his activities in sports.

Youth Must Be Reliant

Self-Responsibility Needed—Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Gloucester, Mass.—I believe in children's summer camps. Money spent by parents thereon is well invested. But I do notice one thing with my grandchildren.

The first summer when they are home alone, after being too old for camp, they are "lost" and know not what to do. During previous summers while at camp, every hour of the day was planned for them; they merely followed their camp counselors and the other children. After outgrowing camp life and left to themselves, they appear helpless and bored, while children who never went to camp and lacked the many camp advantages are much happier.

The above does not mean we should deprive our children of camp life, but it does mean that camp owners should overcome this drawback. This correction is even more important in connection with the recreational programs which cities and towns are now putting on for children. Certain mornings each week I see a class of children following, like little soldiers, a teacher to the beach or a playground. They—like the camp children—are having their days planned for them during the summer vacation as well as during the school terms. As these children will be entirely "on their own" after graduating from school and going to work, it seems only reasonable to let them take care of themselves for two months each year so as to get used to individual responsibility.

Labor and Public Schools
Certainly our public schools are not developing individual responsibility. Young people have too much given to them and are taught to "follow their leader" from birth until they get their first job. Therefore, it is natural that they will want a labor leader and ward politician to follow when they go to work. Certainly, our schools are making followers for the labor leaders. From this bad training children receive in school and during vacations they are unconsciously being trained to welcome fascists and communists. We are undermining democracy. One of the first things every State should do is to repeal all laws which discourage children from taking jobs during vacations. If I want to hire one of my grandchildren for running errands in the office or working on the grounds outside, I must get various papers signed by the State and/or School Authorities—provided they will sign them! The whole present system is wrong. Many children could acquire valuable habits and knowledge by summer work at almost any age. I worked for wages every vacation after I was twelve years old and the experience was of great value. It is a crime to rob children of this privilege today. Again I say we are undermining democracy and individual responsibility by so doing.

How A Utopia Will Come
I recently established a college in the center of the U. S.—at Eureka, Kansas, and named it Utopia College. One reason for this name is because nearby are the remains of one of the Utopia Socialist settlements of 75 years ago—which—like the others failed because individual responsibility was lacking. The second reason was that I took this name to impress upon students that Utopias come not through Socialist programs, but through honest competition. As an ending to this column on children, let me state what we teach the students at Utopia College, Eureka, Kansas. Here it is:
The future of the United States—and every other country for that matter—depends only partly on scientific progress, or natural wealth or even cultural advantages. The advance of man everywhere depends upon the recognition that it is immoral to depend upon others or upon the government. Furthermore, the essence of democracy is individual responsibility from babyhood. Of course, this demands an interest in our fellow men. But we should teach that—in the long-run—we can help save our fellow men only as we save ourselves physically, mentally and spiritually.

Reds Advance Toward Canton

Armies Close In On Gateway City

By SPENCER MOOSA

Canton, Aug. 12 (AP)—Three Chinese Communist armies totaling 75,000 men are closing on Kanhshien, gateway to Kwantung province and Canton, official Nationalist reports said today.

Kanhshien is 215 miles northeast of Canton. It lies in the valley of the Kan river, natural highway to this refugee capital.

The Nationalists admitted the loss of a town only 12 miles northwest of Kanhshien. (It was on this part of the front north of Canton that the Nationalists were boasting only Tuesday that 11,000 Red troops were surrounded.)

Wuyunchiao, was seized by one of the three Red armies which the Nationalists say have been committed by Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, famed Communist commander.

Another Red army was said to be pressing south toward Kanhshien along the Kan river valley. A third Red army was reported operating to the east. Liu is supposed to have three more armies in reserve.

Heavy Hitting
Negro Reports
To Cleveland

Cleveland, Aug. 12 (AP)—Can the newest Cleveland Indian, Luscious (Luke) Easter, provide the long ball punch the Tribe needs to overtake the New York Yankees?

The man for whom Luke played first base with the San Diego Padres thinks he can.

Bill Stark, San Diego president, watched the big Negro slugger make his first appearance here last night as a pinchhitter in the 12 inning tussle Cleveland won from Chicago's White Sox 6-5.

"We hate to lose him," said Stark, "but he's a big league hitter. That boy can hit any kind of pitching, and he doesn't strike out as much as might be expected for a long ball hitter. He's a great competitor, too."

He may provide just the spark and long-ball punch that the Tribe needs in its stretch drive, Stark said.

Stark's club gets Outfielder Alie Clark on loan in exchange for Easter.

Manager Lou Boudreau intends to use Easter only as a pinchhitter for a while until Luke's right knee, operated on here six weeks ago, gets stronger.

Last night was Easter's first time in play since June 19 when he left San Diego where he was leading the Pacific Coast league with 25 homers and a .363 batting average. He batted for Sam Zoladak in the eighth inning.

Bob Kennedy was on third base, there was one out and the score was tied 5-5. Luke rapped the ball right at Shortstop Luke Appling for a ground out while Kennedy held third.

This failed to dampen Easter's elation at becoming an Indian. After the game, he said happily, "It really feels good to be wearing this Cleveland uniform. I'm looking forward to that first home run, too."

Negro Eludes Posse At Gray Court, S. C. And Then Surrenders

Gray Court, S. C., Aug. 12 (AP)—A little Negro who outfoxed a big search party meekly surrendered today. Willie Junior Tolbert, 25, had been widely sought in connection with an attempted rape of a white girl.

His wife gave him courage to submit himself.

Deputy Sheriff W. E. Buzhardt of nearby Greenwood county assured her no harm would come to him if he gave up.

At 4 a. m. (EST) today she summoned officers to their tiny home near Greenwood. There he surrendered and was rushed to the State Penitentiary at Columbia.

Aged Gwinn Couple Found Dead In Home

Gwinn, Mich., Aug. 12 (AP)—An elderly couple were found dead in their bedroom here late yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edlore LaFave, aged 64 and 60 respectively, were discovered by their grandson, Jack Ghiardi. They were last seen alive at 3:00 p. m. Thursday.

The deaths were believed to have resulted from heart attacks. Both of the deceased had suffered attacks previously.

LaFave had been an employee of an iron company in the Upper Peninsula and had been a resident of Gwinn for 40 years.

Truman Irked By Money Bill Delay

been delays.

"The Republican 80th Congress approved all appropriations bills by June 15 last year. The Democratic leadership of the 81st can't escape responsibility for the fact that there still are two basic bills which haven't even been brought up for Senate consideration."

Lucas said the Senate will take up the interior department appropriations bill today after a decision is reached on the so-called basing point bill.

The huge $14,800,000,000 armed services bill seems unlikely to get Senate action before Monday. That was the deadline on funds they don't have officially; a further stop-gap provision seems indicated in this case.

Measures In Tangle

Mr. Truman told his news conference that these delays will make it difficult to start work on next year's budget until the money bills are passed. He said Senator Hayden (D-Ariz.) told him he never saw appropriations measures in such a tangle.

Taft noted that the $5,797,000,000 Foreign Aid bill passed by the Senate was delayed by a point of order by Democratic Senator McClellan of Arkansas, which sent it back to committee for several days.

On the adjournment front, Morse told a reporter he thinks there is a definite move afoot among administration Democrats to delay quelling so that GOP members seeking reelection won't have much time to campaign this year.

"They know that some of us, like Senator Taft of Ohio, Senator Donnell of Missouri and myself are pretty vigorous campaigners and I think they want to hamstring us as much as they can," Morse said.

He added that since Democrats control both Congress and the White House they are in better position to confine themselves to brief campaigns than the Republicans, who are on the outside looking in.

Senator Thye (R-Minn.) also professed to see some Democratic dirty work at the political crossroads.

He told a reporter he thinks administration leaders are "dillydallying around, trying to force a rebellion on the question of adjourning Congress so they can blame the Republicans and the Southern Democrats for obstructing their program."

Pipe Bands Heard As Scottish Clans Meet In Detroit

Detroit, Aug. 12 (AP)—A mighty host of Scottish clans converged on Detroit today.

The occasion was the centennial celebration of St. Andrew's society. It called for song and story, feats of strength and good cheer.

From Canada and Michigan and other states came the Campbells, MacDonalds, Camerons, Mac Duffs, MacLeods and their kindred.

St. Andrew's officials boast they are assembling the largest number of Scottish pipe bands ever brought together in this country. Twenty-nine of them, made up of more than 500 pipers and augmented by four drum and bugle corps, will stage a big show tomorrow night in University of Detroit stadium.

Muskegon Girl Dies Of Polio As Police Hunt Missing Mother

Muskegon, Aug. 12 (AP)—Police of three states have intensified their hunt for a missing Muskegon woman—to tell her that her young daughter died today of poliomyelitis.

Bonnie Cross succumbed to the disease in a Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, shortly after officers uncovered the first trace of her mother who disappeared eight days ago.

Police said they had learned Mrs. Louis Cross, 37, boarded a plane here Aug. 4 with her six-year-old son, Johnny, bound for Milwaukee.

The woman's husband, Louis, a garage proprietor, reported his wife's disappearance Wednesday after their 13-year-old daughter was stricken with polio.

Central City, Colo. Church Organist In Jail For Gambling

Central City, Colo., Aug. 12 (AP)—A 68-year-old church organist, who insisted on going to jail on gambling charges, added a few comforts of home to her cell today.

She had her own rocking chair and a radio.

Mrs. Alice C. Ramstatter, a cafe owner, was one of 39 businessmen and women charged yesterday with gambling by Justice of the Peace Lowell Griffith.

Most of the charges resulted from slot machine operations in regular business establishments. Summer visitors here also have been able to cure their gambling fever with dice, roulette and card games at different times.

Sheriff Kenneth McKenzie said he was taking Mrs. Ramstatter out of jail for her meals. Last night he hauled in her own bed and rocking chair. She's got a radio, too.

Germans Harp On Nationalism

No Good Word For Aid Of Allies

By BRACK CURRY

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 12—An American military government spokesman lashed out last night at the "pronounced Nationalism" of Western Germany's federal election campaign. It was the first official U. S. comment on anti-Allied attacks by German candidates, up for election Sunday.

The spokesman declared in a German-language broadcast that "not a single party has a good word for the positive work of the Western Allies."

"One is forced to make comparisons with the past and to look with some anxiety to the future, which is being entrusted to such a forgetful, Nationalistic people," he said.

The spokesman declared German politicians agree on only one point: "a pronounced nationalism which sees all right on one side and all injustice and bad will on the other side."

He warned that "opinion abroad has not overlooked the awakened Nationalism nor the sudden forgetfulness of German politicians concerning the assistance the Western Allies have rendered."

Even as he spoke candidates for the new Parliament carried on their heated attacks on the Allies.

Both American and British observers claim these anti-Allied remarks have resulted in a general apathy among the German voters, will result in a comparatively light vote in Sunday's elections.

West Germans choose a 400-member Parliament for an 11-state republic in the U. S., British and French zones. This Parliament then will name a president and a prime minister (Chancellor) who will organize the government.

Next War Will Have No Victors, Says Lie, Secretary Of U. N.

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 12 (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie says all statesmen realize there would be "no victors, only losers" in a third World War. Hence, he forecast world tension will remain relaxed for some time.

"It is my impression," Lie said in a speech at the Skansen open air museum last night, "that responsible statesmen all over the world are firmly resolved to prevent a new war, and that they will go a very long way to preserve the peace."

"I think that the relaxation of the international tension, observed during the last few months, will continue," Lie said.

Lie said the strengthened influence of the United Nations was a factor in maintaining internal calm.

"Often the U. N. alone has been standing between the provisional peace we are living in and the threat of a third World War," he said.

Jersey Joe Fights Tandberg In Sweden

Stockholm, Aug. 12 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott, a three-time loser in bouts for the world heavyweight boxing title, will meet Sweden's Champion Olle Tandberg at the Rasunda Soccer stadium here Sunday.

Jersey Joe is confident of success. But the strong, slow-going Tandberg has proved a giant killer in the past. He defeated Joe Baksi, another American, in the same arena two years ago.

The fight is scheduled for 12 rounds and local experts think Walcott will win on points. Tandberg never has been knocked out.

High Rates May Hurt Business, Railroads Warned

By JACK ADAMS

Washington, Aug. 12 (AP)—Government authority for the railroads to boost freight rates again was coupled today with a warning that further increases may mean less business.

Authorizing a new four per cent general rate advance, the Interstate Commerce commission hinted broadly that it may be reluctant to permit any later hike.

The ICC called attention to shipper protests that the rail carriers, by raising charges, may "price themselves out of the market," and said:

"It is now taken as axiomatic that increased freight rates do not necessarily or invariably result in increased operating revenues."

"The successive increases which we have authorized since June 30, 1946, have brought us to the point where all concerned concede that we as well as the carriers must consider seriously whether further increases now may result in less revenue and thus defeat their purpose."

Expenses Up $380,000,000

However, the commission found that the industry had shown a need for more income, particularly in view of the 40-hour week which is to be made effective for some workers September 1, and granted the new advance. The changes may be made on 15 days' notice to the public.

The fresh four percent upping of rates will add about $293,000,000 a year to rail freight billings. The commission estimated in this connection that the 40-hour week will increase expenses some $380,000,000 annually.

With this action, freight rates have been advanced about 57 per cent in the postwar period. The overall hike in charges amounts to some $3,000,000,000 a year.

Ohio Man Appointed Kingsford Principal

Iron Mountain—A. L. Allen, of Marion, Ohio, has accepted the position of principal of Kingsford high school, to succeed Roland Strolle, who resigned last spring to accept work with the state department of education, it was announced yesterday by F. C. Sweeney, superintendent of the system. Allen, whose appointment was approved by the Breitung township board of education, will take over his new duties on Monday, August 22.

Allen, who comes to Kingsford highly recommended, is married and the father of a son, age nine. The family was here last week-end to confer with Sweeney relative to the final details of the contract, and to purchase a house at 740 Cass avenue. The new principal, who spent his boyhood in Ishpeming, is a brother of Rupert Allen, 1244 Kimberly.

Stanley Mosier Sent To Jail For 60 Days

Stanley Mosier of Rapid River, Route One, was sentenced to serve 60 days in the county jail on arraignment before Henry Ranguette at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, after pleading guilty to a charge of assault and battery. Mosier was arrested by the sheriff's department on complaint of a neighbor. Mosier struck his teen-age daughter.

Heafner Tops Tam O'Shanter

Six Under Par 66 Is Posted By Leader

Chicago, Aug. 11 (AP)—Clayton Heafner, 240-pound Charlotte, N. C., pro was burning up the trail to golf's biggest bonanza today with a one-stroke lead entering the second round of the Tam O'Shanter $35,000 "world" championship.

Heafner grabbed the brass ring yesterday with a sizzling six-under-par 66 for a slight edge over two other seasoned campaigners, Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., and Henry Ransom, the transplanted Texan now in Chicago.

Palmer and Ransom each banged 67's. In all, 29 pros broke par 72 to set a terrific opening round pace in the chase for the $10,000 first prize.

So hot was the rivalry that Lloyd Mangrum's dismal 76 all but knocked him out of contention. As defending "world" champion and winner of the all-American title Tuesday, Mangrum faced the sorry chance of being out in the cold when the field of 66 is trimmed to the low 32 scorers for Saturday's third round.

Another favorite, Sam Snead, runner-up to Mangrum in the all-American competition, also skidded. Sambo's regulation par 72 left him stranded in a tie for 30th place. Mangrum was buried in a tie for 56th.

Four players were grouped at 68 in the tightly-packed start of the 72-hole scramble for golf's largest jackpot.

They were Jim Ferrier, Ed Furgol, Jim Turnesa, and Dick Metz. Ferrier particularly blew a fancy chance to become the frontrunner when he climbed to a last nine 36 after opening with 32.

Locked at 69 were National Open champion Cary Middlecoff, Willie Hunter, Jr., Chandler Harper and Jimmy Demaret.

In the three other sections of Promoter George May's golf jubilee, the leaders stacked up this way:

Women's amateur—19-year-old Alice Bauer of Los Angeles with even par 76, and Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., Marlene Bauer, Alice's 15-year-old sister, and Grace Lenczyk, the National amateur champion from Hartford, Conn., all with 78's.

Women's professional—Patty Berg and Babe Zaharias with 74 apiece, and Louise Suggs with 80.

Men's amateur—Frank Kovack of Waukegan, Ill., with 70 and Walter Cisco of Louisville, Ky., with 71. Defending "world" amateur champion, Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., ballooned to 76 while Frank Stranahan,
